Abstract: The body of your abstract begins here. It should be a detailed summary of your presentation that states a brief introduction, objective, methodology, summary of findings/results, conclusion and significance/contributions of the study. It should be single-spaced in 12-point Times New Roman. The first part of your abstract should state the problem you set out to solve or the issue you set out to explore. The problem or issue might be a research question, a gap in critical attention to a text, a societal concern, etc. The purpose of your study is to solve this problem and/or add to your discipline's understanding of the issue. Your abstract should also describe the research methods; this section should include a concise description of the process by which you conducted your research. No graphs/tables/images are allowed. Next, your abstract should list the results or outcomes of your work. Finally, your abstract should be concluded with a statement of the project's implications and contributions to its field. The word limit for the abstract is 300 words. The abstract should be written in English. Please do not include any paragraph or line formatting. The abstract should be justified.

Keywords: Keywords regarding the work are stated in this section. Keywords should contain a maximum of 5 words that are written with 10-point Times New Roman and separated with a semi-colon.
